Obtaining College
Credit in High School

On October 24th, the Klein ISD Klein Bots Robotics team, comprised of students from all four high schools, competed in the annual Robot Remix FIRST Robotics competition in the Woodlands.

The Klein Bots team won first place and STAG's career concluded in triumph! Here is a short video created by the students:

Out-of-school academic competitions provide gifted and advanced students with opportunities to showcase and hone their skills while participating in appropriate, meaningful activities that appeal to their areas of strength.

The Klein Independent School District supports and encourages students to become involved in any of the opportunities available on campus.

Coding Club

KISD elementary students are learning to program computers. These clubs are using programming languages from Google and MIT to teach kids the basics of coding.

In December the clubs will be sharing their coding experience with their schoolmates by putting on an Hour of Code event.

422 students - 3rd, 4th and 5th graders participating in the Coding Club

25 Teachers - are leading the clubs as Coding Coaches

Destination Imagination gives students the chance to learn and experience the creative process. The creative process is about thinking and doing in no prescribed order. Some people "do" first and then think about what they have done, while others "think" first, then initiate action.
